“Very good taste.”

Reviewed January 5, 2012

Was looking for food to go one evening, while staying at a B&B. As soon as I got in the staff was very pleasant, and offered me a soup while waiting for my order. The food was very good.

“Fine lunch buffet, good value”

Reviewed October 7, 2011

Went alone for a lunch buffet. They had 3 meat curries and 4 vegetarian dishes, they were all very tasty. They bring a small basket of naan bread to your table, and you help yourself to the rest. The quality was definitely superior to most other Indian buffets in Boston, and was priced very reasonably.

“A gem in Somerville”

Reviewed July 16, 2011

1 person found this review helpful

I am very careful with Indian food. I was in India and I know that normally Indian food is tooooooo spicy for me (=too hot). But here, in Kebab Factory, I was so pleasantly surprised as food was really mild and still full of flavours (=spice that does not make your mouth burn). I ordered mushrooms with cheese and...

“A very nice indian resturant in the Somerville area”

Reviewed October 22, 2010

The Kebab Factory always exceeds my expectation. Their service is always great. I especially enjoy their lunch buffet for which you can enjoy a variety of Indian dishes from appetizer to entree to dessert for for only $7.95 on weekdays or $11.99 on $11.95 on the weekends. I have also tried out their dinner menu for a couple of times....

“Amazing food”

Reviewed September 6, 2008

An odd looking place, with indifferent service, but what delicious food! I've been to scores of Indian restaurants all over the world, including India, and this is one of my favorites. Fresh ingredients, interesting choices, an amazing buffet. If they corrected their tendency to oversalt some dishes, this would get a full 5 stars from me.

The Kebab Factory is one of my favorite Indian spots in the area. I highly recomend their Tandori dishes which are served up in mini tandori ovens. The Prawns are particularly delecious!
